The Ladies Education and Ready Mixed Network (LEARN) will hold a Lunch and L.E.A.R.N. on Wednesday, January 21, 2009 at TesTech's training facility, "The Galleria," in Dayton, OH from 11:30 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. The cost to attend the luncheon is only $10 per person and includes a presentation on LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) certification from Julie Buffenbarger of Lafarge North America.

LEED is the set of green building specifications being adopted by a significant and growing number of governments and large developers.

Don't miss Julie Buffenbarger's presentation on How Concrete and Cementitious Materials Contribute to Green Building Certifications at the Lunch and L.E.A.R.N.

Julie Buffenbarger is an Engineering and Architectural Sales Specialist for Lafarge Cement. Her role is to promote cement and supplementary cementitious materials and sustainable design initiatives through technical education, promotion and specifica-

She joined Lafarge in 2004 after ten years experience in concrete research, admixture product development, and admixture and polymer floor marketing. She holds Bachelors and Masters of Science degrees in Synthetic Organic Chemistry from Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio. Julie is an active member of the ACI, CSI, NAWIC, PCA, USGBC, as well as and various regional engineering and architectural organizations. She has one pending patent and has authored and co-authored several publications on supplementary cementitious materials, concrete corrosion and durability, shrinkage-reducing admixtures for concrete, and the use of concrete admixtures in mining back-fill.
