Photocatalytic Cements

This month's meeting topic is photocatalytic cements presented by Dan Schaffer, Essroc Cement.

Photocatalytic cement is a patented technology developed for the production of self-cleaning and de-polluting concrete. Concrete produced with photocatalytic technology can be used in a wide variety of applications - from precast panels to concrete pavers to plaster/stucco finishes. This presentation will provide an introduction to photocatalytic technology in concrete, discuss current environmental issues and how photocatalytic concrete can improve the environment.

We are always looking for meeting topics. If you have a suggestion, please contact a board member.
